

Chicken Sound Gadget

This is a simple gadget you can use to create a chicken sound, just like you'd hear on the farm.

What do you need?

plastic cup (not too small) piece of twine about 2 feet in length small piece of sponge.

How does it go together?

Take the twine and tie a large not knot on one end. Poke a hole in the bottom of the cup. Pull the twine through the cup. The twine will hang through the cup. Then, tie a small piece of sponge to the dangling end of twine.

How do I make the chicken sound?

Making the chicken sound is a simple process. Wet the sponge slightly.

With the cup upside down and string hanging down, hold the cup at the top, with the other hand pinch the sponge around the hanging twine near the bottom of the cup. Slide the sponge down the twine, short tugs works best.

If you have a number of these made and have them all going at the same time you'll think there is a flock of chickens in the room.

Have fun.
